

Thank you for your interest in MetaTrader 5 Platform.

Choosing trading platform is a major decision that directly impacts your business success, hence it is important to consider several key issues: position of the solution in the market, popularity among traders, latency, ease of use, security and monthly running cost.

Satisfying all the above, MetaTrader platforms have become an industry standard: more than 2000 brokers and banks have chosen MetaTrader for providing world-class trading experience to millions of traders around the globe.

Why MetaTrader 5 Platform

A complete brokerage solution

Get your own trading servers with complete control over the system administration, full back-office and middle-office of the platform.

No conflict of interest

All your clients are located and working on trading servers which belong to you and not to any other technology vendor or broker. No one has access to your trading servers, your clients' details and database!

Business independence

You control from A to Z all operations, risk management and trading conditions for your clients as well as for your affiliates and IBs.
